DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

PREFACE

This Catalogue has been prepared to meet the needs of the new situation created by the Amended Regulations of the Department of Education regarding Teachers' Institutes (Circular 17, August, 1917). At least the full amount of the Legislative Grant is hereafter to be expended in providing libraries for the use of the members of the Institutes.

The different Sections of this Catalogue recognize the claims upon the teachers' attention not only of professional books, but of books of general literature, history, biography, etc. From time to time supplementary catalogues will be issued and, as occasion may serve, the main Catalogue itself will be issued in an amended form. From time to time also, the Minister will be glad to receive suggestions from the Institutes or from any of their members, for the improvement of the organization, or of the contents, of the libraries.

In the selection of books, those listed in Section I, namely, books of a professional character, should first receive attention; and, as soon as a good beginning has been made in that Section of the Library, books listed in Sections II and III should be purchased from year to year, along with desirable additions of books of a professional character. When, also, it has become evident that certain books in the list are much in request, additional copies of such books should be provided.

Of the professional books suitable for the use of the teachers of the elementary schools, no others are so directly important as the Ontario Public School Manuals and the Normal School Manuals. These, however, have not been included in this Catalogue, as the former are by Regulation provided in each school library, and of both the former and the latter each teacher is expected to possess copies himself.

Before purchasing the books listed in Sections II and III, care should be taken to ascertain if any of them are available in the Public Libraries of the inspectorate; unnecessary duplication should, of course, be avoided.

It would be well for each Institute to appoint a special library committee, of which the Inspector and the Librarian should be members; and the question of adding to the efficiency of the library should be one of the topics taken up at each annual meeting.

As to the books required for the Yearly Reading Course prescribed in Regulation 8 (b), the Minister does not think it unreasonable to expect each teacher to provide himself, in addition to the Manuals, with copies of the other books selected for the Course. The books for this Course might be supplemented by others from the Teachers' Institute Library which bear on the same topics.

A copy of the Catalogue of the books selected should be printed by the Institute and sent to its members, with a statement of the provision made for access to the books; a copy should also be sent to the Deputy Minister of Education.
